

Let Joy Caldwell Be Your Realtor
For an exceptional Home Buying or Home Selling Experience

After growing up in Houston, Texas, Joy moved to Bryan-College Station in the late 70's, and has spent many successful years here in the real estate and building business. Joy brings to all of her clients a unique combination of professional experience, problem-solving skills, and compassion that all of her many past clients have always cherished.

Aside from spending a number of years as Chief Administrative Officer for a rapidly growing local research company, Joy has spent a large percentage of her career in Bryan-College Station in real estate brokerage or real estate-related fields such as home building and serving as the CEO of the Bryan-College Station Homebuilders Association.

Joy's volunteer activities include serving as the Vice-Chair of the Bryan Planning and Zoning Commission as well as serving as President of the Bryan-College Station Multiple Listing Service.

Since, Joy's affiliation with Coventry Glen Realty, Joy has personally closed over 600 real estate transactions in the Bryan-College Station area. Her professional expertise includes first time homebuyers, move-up home buyers and sellers, acreage home buyers and sellers, investors, and new home building consulting. Joy excels at servicing all of her clients over a broad range of price ranges with the same high level of focus and commitment that all of her past customers value.

As a buyer or seller, you deserve only the best level of professional service in terms of the time, expertise, and commitment to excellence that Joy brings to each and every one of her clients.

For the exceptional home buying or home selling experience that you deserve, please contact Joy Caldwell today to service your residential brokerage needs.
